1. About AMP Super

No matter where you start, everyone has the potential to live their dreams. We believe that life is about making the most of what you do have. We're here to help realise the incredible potential within all Australians.

With over 170 years of experience, AMP has been helping Australians achieve their goals since 1849.

AMP Super is industry recognised and award-winning, with the following:

- access to simple advice
- smart digital tools
- insurance to suit your lifestage
- simple digital experience
- competitive fees.

Stay in control or let us do the work for you, you decide

If you like to be in control of your investment choices you can do so with a number of different approaches to investing, suiting a broad range of risk profiles.

Or you can leave the work to us and invest in our MySuper investment option that continuously evolves with your life stages as you get older. For a quick snapshot of AMP's MySuper option, visit amp.com.au/ampsuper to view the product dashboard.

Get an extra little boost

Your AMP Super account comes with a tiny little supercharger you can use when you eventually decide to retire. It has the potential to boost your retirement income by getting you more from the Government's Aged Pension. It doesn't lock you into anything now though and its included[1] in your account at no extra cost.

Find out more about the Lifetime Boost we have available in our member guide and visit amp.com.au/superannuation/lifetime-boost.

For eligible members[2] who have made an investment choice, the Lifetime Boost feature is now built-in. It can also be activated for eligible default MySuper members, by logging in to the AMP Super online account or app or by calling us. You can check your next annual statement or in your AMP Super online account or app to see if you have this feature switched on.

The feature is designed to convert into a Lifetime Pension if you decide to start one in the future. So at age 65, or when you otherwise satisfy a full Condition of Release[3], you will have 14 days to decide if you want to convert some or all of your accumulated benefit to a Lifetime Pension, otherwise the added benefit from the Lifetime feature in AMP Super will expire.

If you're ready to retire and transition to a Lifetime Pension, you will have an income for life and the life of your spouse, if you choose that option. Having a Lifetime Pension may increase your Government Age Pension eligibility. Converting your Super with the Lifetime Boost feature into a Lifetime Pension may further increase that eligibility.

The feature has some limitations, including when you are eligible and when it expires. Eligible members will be able to open an AMP Lifetime Pension account. More information is available in the member guide and the Retiring with AMP Super PDS, which contains information about the Lifetime Pension income stream associated with this product.

1 Included in eligible accounts outlined by legislation and this PDS.

2 Eligible members are born after 19 May 1967 and have not met a full condition of release in the relevant account.

3 See Accessing your Super in the member guide for details.

2. How super works

Super is a way of saving for retirement that allows you to invest your savings across a range of investments.

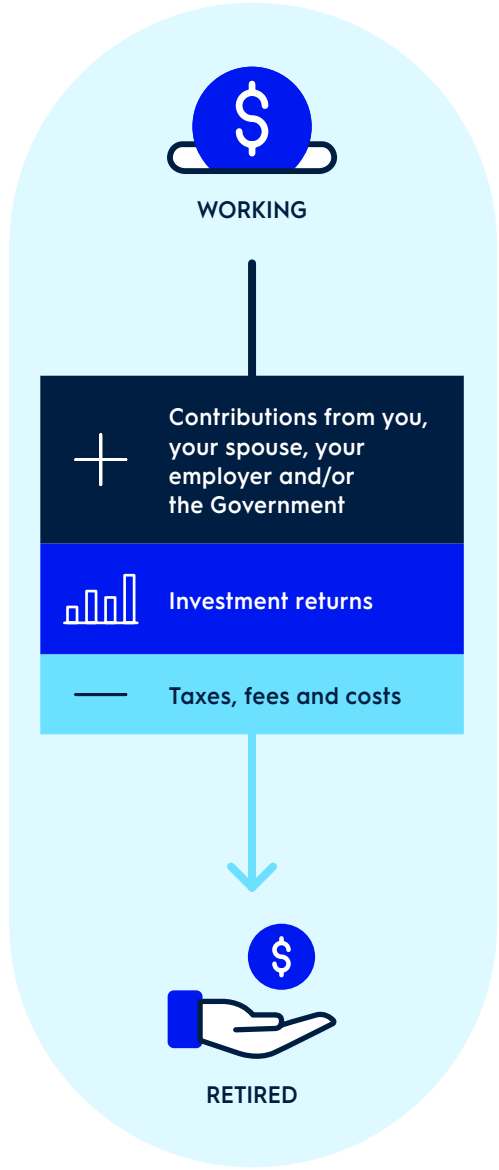

Generally, it's compulsory for employers to pay or 'contribute' to super for all employees and the Government legislates the minimum they have to pay so you're saving for retirement every day you're at work! You can choose to contribute more than the minimum and you can usually choose who you want to invest your super with.

The Government provides tax benefits by generally applying a low tax rate of 15% on the earnings in your super, making super a tax-effective way to save for the retirement you always imagined.

Contributions can be made into your account by you, your employer, your spouse and the Government. You need to meet certain conditions before you can start accessing your savings in super by either reaching retirement age or meeting a condition of release, which is set out in law.

When you're able to access your money, you can take it as a lump sum, as regular income payments, or a combination of the two.

You should read the important information about how super works before making a decision. Go to the member guide at amp.com.au/ampsuper. The material relating to how super works may change between the time when you read this statement and the day when you acquire the product.

4. Risks of super

All investing comes with risk. How much risk is right for you can depend on your age, investment timeframe, other investments you have and how comfortable you are with risk. Understanding risk helps you make better investment decisions.

When deciding how to invest, it's important to know different options and strategies carry different levels of risk because they invest in different assets, so remember to consider the following:

- Investments with the highest long-term returns may also carry the highest level of short-term risk.
- The level of investment returns will vary and future returns may differ from past returns.
- Investment returns are not guaranteed and you may lose money.
- Your super savings may not be enough to provide adequately for you in retirement.
- If you're part of an employer plan that pays your fees, offers discounts or additional benefits – these may not continue if you cease employment.

Government laws and policies affecting superannuation, taxation and social security may change at any time. These changes may affect your benefits and personal circumstances. If required, we may change the terms and conditions of your product to comply with these changes. We will notify you of any material changes. While past changes have often applied only to new members, this is not guaranteed and future changes may also affect existing members.

You should read the important information about the benefits of investing and risks of super with AMP Super before making a decision. Go to the member and investment guide at amp.com.au/ampsuper for more information. The material relating to the benefits of investing and risks of super with AMP Super may change between the time when you read this statement and the day when you acquire the product.

5. How we invest your money

‘Stay in control or let us do the work for you, you decide.’

We offer you access to a range of leading Australian and international investment managers. We do this through a number of different approaches to investing including:

- A MySuper option
- Active multi-manager investing
- Index style investing
- Environmental, social and governance (ESG) focused investing, and
- Cash and term deposits.

You can decide where to invest by choosing up to 15 professionally managed investment options or if you’d rather not make a choice we’ll invest your super in our default investment option – AMP MySuper.

It’s easy to change your investment options as life changes by logging in to AMP Super online account or app. You can do this any time and you won’t be charged any switching fees.

For more information on all the investment options go to the investment guide at amp.com.au/ampsuper.

AMP MySuper option

AMP MySuper takes the hard work out of deciding how to invest your super by providing a simple single investment option tailored for your age.

This is our compliant MySuper investment option you will be invested in unless you make an alternative investment choice.

When you’re younger it seeks higher returns through growth assets such as shares. As you approach retirement age, the aim is to reduce risk and preserve money, so the asset mix shifts to more stable defensive assets. This option is suitable for members who don’t want to actively choose an investment mix and who still want to grow their balance. The AMP MySuper option is not available to pension members.

There will be changes to AMP MySuper in November 2026. The AMP MySuper design is being updated to provide a more tailored approach for members. Instead of adjusting based on the decade you were born, your investment will gradually adjust based on your age, helping it better reflect where you are on your path to retirement.

As a result, the AMP MySuper information shown on the following page will change. Please refer to the investment guide for the new information.

AMP MySuper	Investment Objective (rate of return after investment fees[i], costs and tax, over a 10 year timeframe)	Growth/ Defensive Asset Ranges[ii]	Short-term Standard Risk Measure[iii]	Suggested Minimum Investment Timeframe	Aim and Strategy
1990s Plus	CPI +3.75% pa	Growth: 70–100% Defensive: 0–30%	6 / High	10 years	To provide returns from capital growth and income through a diversified portfolio. Younger investors will have higher exposure to growth investment strategies because they have a longer period to retirement and can afford to take more risk. However, for investors approaching retirement, the investment will seek to preserve the capital built up and reduce risk while maintaining an exposure to growth assets.
1980s	CPI +3.75% pa	Growth: 70–100% Defensive: 0–30%	6 / High	10 years
1970s	CPI +3.75% pa	Growth: 70–100% Defensive: 0–31%	6 / High	10 years
1960s	CPI +3.25% pa	Growth: 58–98% Defensive: 2–42%	6 / High	10 years
1950s	CPI +3.00% pa	Growth: 50–90% Defensive: 10–50%	6 / High	4 years
Capital Stable	CPI +3.00% pa	Growth: 50–90% Defensive: 10–50%	6 / High	4 years

(i) This excludes the Administration fees and costs and any member activity related fees and costs. Refer to the Fees and costs table for details.

(ii) Growth assets include shares and property. Defensive assets include cash and fixed interest investments. Please refer to the investment guide for the full asset class ranges for AMP MySuper.

(iii) This is based on industry guidance to allow investors to compare investment options that are expected to deliver a similar number of negative annual returns over any 20-year period. For more information go to the investment guide.

When choosing your investment strategy, you should consider the likely investment returns, the risks involved and your investment timeframe. We have lots of helpful tools online and advice pathways to help support your investment decisions to get the most out of your super.

6. Fees and costs

Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns. For example, paying total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30-year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or better member services justify higher fees and costs. You or your employer may be able to negotiate lower fees. Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

To find out more

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (moneysmart.gov.au) has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options.

The table on the next page shows fees and costs you may be charged if you are invested in an AMP MySuper option. The fees and costs for all other investment options can be found in the member guide and investment guide.

These fees and costs may be deducted directly from your account, from investment returns or from the super fund's assets. You can use the information in this table to compare the costs between different super products.

Some employer plans may have negotiated lower administration fees and costs. This will be confirmed in your welcome letter. In most plans, discounts stop when you leave your employer.

The fees described in the PDS and the guides include, if applicable, GST less any input tax credits.

Fee changes from 1 December 2026

The following fees help cover the cost of managing your account. Here's what's changing on 1 December 2026:

- The member fee will reduce from $1.50 to $0.99 per week.
- The member fee will now be charged across all your investment options (excluding any term deposits), rather than being deducted from your MySuper investment first and then any Choice investment options.
- The percentage administration fee will reduce from 0.19% pa to 0.18% pa. The maximum amount you may pay will move from $950 pa to $1,080 pa.

Some investment fees will also change. Please see the investment guide for more information.

You should read the important information about how we invest your money before making a decision. Go to the investment guide available at amp.com.au/ampsuper for further information.

The material relating to how we invest your money may change between the time when you read this statement and the day when you acquire the product.

	Plus insurance fees[ii] [vi] – insurance fees will apply if you have insurance cover.	Deducted directly from your account in advance at the beginning of each month.

These footnotes relate to the table on the previous page.

(i) If your account balance is less than $6,000 at 30 June, the total of all ongoing annual fees and costs charged to you is capped at 3% (after the benefit of any tax deduction passed on to you) of the account balance. Any amount charged in excess of that cap will be refunded.

(ii) Refer to the additional explanation of fees and costs in the member guide for more information, including the calculation basis for any cost estimates (if applicable).

(iii) This amount is made up of an estimated administration fee and costs of 0.042% pa and nil trustee expense recovery.

(iv) Investment fees and costs for AMP MySuper includes an estimated amount for performance fees of: 1990s Plus 0.08% pa; 1980s 0.09% pa; 1970s 0.09% pa; 1960s 0.08% pa; 1950s 0.04% pa; Capital Stable 0.04% pa. The calculation basis for this amount is set out in the additional explanation of fees and costs in the member guide.

(v) The ranges shown here are based on the latest information available at the date of this document. The transaction cost allowance for an investment option can change at any time and may exceed the maximum amount shown.

(vi) The cost of insurance cover varies. Your insurance fee is made up of your premium, an insurance service expense and any stamp duty that applies. The insurance service expense is up to 11.5% of your premium, capped at $30 per month. The insurance service expense is charged by us and covers the cost of providing your insurance. For more details refer to the insurance guide.

(vii) You may receive a tax deduction on your superannuation fees and costs. For details refer to the tax section of the PDS or member guide.

Example of annual fees and costs

The table below gives an example of how the fees and costs for the AMP MySuper 1970s option for this product can affect your investment over a one-year period. You should use this table to compare this super product with other super products.

AMP MySuper 1970s		Balance of $50,000
Administration fees and costs	$78 pa ($1.50 per week) + 0.19% pa + 0.014% pa + 0.042% pa	You will be charged $78 regardless of your balance. Plus, for every $50,000 of your account balance you will be charged $95 (up to a maximum of $950) in administration fees. Plus, for every $50,000 you will be charged a trustee fee of $7 and $21 will be paid from super fund assets (this is not deducted from your account).
+ Investment fees and costs	0.38% pa	And, you will be charged or have deducted from your investment $190 in investment fees and costs.
+ Transaction costs	0.04% pa	And, you will be charged or have deducted from your investment $20 in transaction costs.
= Cost of product	$411	If your balance was $50,000 at the beginning of the year, then for that year you will be charged fees and costs of $411[(i)(ii)] for the super product.

(i) Additional member activity related fees may apply, such as the transaction cost allowance, advice fees for personal advice, or insurance fees. Refer to the fees and costs section of the member guide for more information.

(ii) You may receive a tax deduction on your superannuation fees and costs. For details refer to the tax section of the PDS or member guide.

This example is illustrative only, what it costs you will depend on your individual investments. We have the right to change the fees without your consent, and when required we will always provide you with notice before doing so.

If you have a financial adviser, you can agree on a fee with your adviser. With your consent, this fee can be paid directly from your AMP Super account and will be set out in the Statement of Advice your adviser provides.

You should read the important information about fees and other costs before making a decision. Go to the member guide and investment guide available at amp.com.au/ampsuper for further information.

The material relating to fees and other costs may change between the time you read this PDS and the day you acquire the product.

7. How super is taxed

Super offers tax benefits to help you save for retirement. Your super is usually taxed at three points:

- Contributions (putting money into your super)
- Earnings (on investments in your super)
- Withdrawals (taking money out of your super)

Tax can be deducted from contributions at the time the contribution is made or monthly depending on the type of contribution. Tax can be deducted on earnings before they are applied to your account, and on withdrawals.

Tax deductions

A tax deduction may apply to investment fees and costs, any advice fees you pay, and net of any rebates you receive.

We'll pass on the benefits from the tax deductions applied to any insurance and administration fees paid by you, capped at the contributions tax deducted from concessional contributions made to your account. This is paid monthly, in arrears, as a tax rebate to your account based on the financial year.

Tax on contributions within the contribution caps

- Concessional (before tax) contributions:
  - up to 15% on employer (including SG and award contributions)
  - up to 15% on salary sacrifice
  - up to 15% on personal contributions you've claimed a tax deduction for
  - in addition to the above tax, a further 15% tax may apply for those who have income (including concessional contributions) in excess of $250,000
  - additional tax applies if you exceed the contributions caps.
- Non-concessional (after tax) contributions:
  - nil tax on personal contributions that you do not claim a tax deduction for
  - nil tax on spouse contributions.
- Nil on other amounts, including:
  - Government contributions
  - most rollovers
  - personal injury payments
  - downsizer contributions
  - capital gains tax small business amounts.

Tax on earnings

- Up to 15% for income and capital gains in a super account.
- Nil for pension accounts, except transition to retirement pensions.
- Up to 15% for income and capital gains in a transition to retirement account, until you reach age 65 or a relevant condition of release, then it becomes nil.
- From 1 July 2026, an additional tax may apply to earnings attributable to the portion of your total super balance above $3 million.

Tax on withdrawals

- Lump sum withdrawals:
  - nil if you're over age 60 or if the withdrawal is from your tax-free component
  - up to 22% (including Medicare levy) if you have not reached age 60.
- Pension payments:
  - tax is generally paid at your marginal rate if you are aged under age 60
  - are tax free from age 60.

You should read the important information about taxes in the member guide available at amp.com.au/ampsuper before making a decision. The material relating to tax may change between the time when you read this statement and the day when you acquire the product.

You could be paying unnecessary tax:

1. Monitor your contributions
   If you exceed the government set contributions caps, you'll usually have to pay extra tax. We help you monitor the caps in each of your AMP accounts but you're responsible to check these caps across all your super accounts. You can check your contributions caps from the ATO in your myGov account.
2. Provide your tax file number (TFN)
   You should provide your Tax File Number so you aren't hit with unnecessary tax. You can read more about this in the member guide.
3. When you retire
   Investment earnings are generally tax free when you've retired and reached preservation age. Consider moving your super into a pension account to avoid paying this.

8. Insurance in your super

Having insurance in super means your insurance fees are paid from your super balance. Some insurance fees are tax deductible for the fund. You may benefit from this if you make concessional contributions to your super. For details refer to the tax deductions section of this PDS.

The cover we offer differs between Personal members (members who joined AMP Super directly) and employee members (members who joined AMP Super via their employer), because some employer plans have specific insurance arrangements negotiated or tailored to their industry. We don't offer insurance in pension accounts.

Insurance has lots of detail to be considered, so we've put the specific details in a separate insurance guide. Your welcome letter will let you know which guide is the right one for you, or if you would like to read it sooner, call us to request a copy.

Cover eligibility

Like all insurance, there is eligibility criteria, conditions and exclusions that may apply. You might find that cover is not suitable for you. We've provided the details of these in the insurance guide. It's important to understand this before deciding if insurance is right for you.

You can read more about this in your insurance guide.

Before you make any decision about your insurance, you should read the information that's in your insurance guide. We'll confirm which insurance guide applies to you in your welcome letter.

Information relating to insurance in your super may change between the time when you read this statement and the day when you acquire your insurance.

	Personal members	Employee members
Types of cover available	Death cover Pays a lump-sum amount if you die. In most cases, Death cover automatically includes Terminal Illness cover. Total and Permanent Disablement (TPD) cover Pays a lump-sum amount if you become totally and permanently disabled. Income Protection (IP) cover Pays a monthly amount up to 75% of your pre-disability income if you become totally disabled or partially disabled. You may also apply for a Superannuation Contribution Benefit (SCB) which provides super contributions if you're on an IP claim.	Cover depends on a range of factors including your category and status with your employer. Refer to your welcome letter and insurance guide for the definitions of each type of cover to help you decide if cover is right for you. Death cover Same as Personal members. TPD cover Same as Personal members. IP cover[1] Pays a monthly amount as an income replacement generally up to 75% of your pre-disability income if you become totally disabled or partially disabled. Your IP cover may also include SCB, this will be in your insurance guide or welcome letter.
Level of cover	AMP Super has two options: Essential Protection Apply for a low level of standard cover when you complete a new account application with limited health and lifestyle evidence required. If you already have an existing super account, you can choose a fixed amount of Death, TPD and IP cover. Health and lifestyle evidence will be required. Super Protection Choose a fixed amount of Death, TPD and IP cover. Health and lifestyle evidence will be required.	If eligible, your cover is applied automatically based on details provided by your employer and your plan design. Cover types are subject to maximum cover limits and automatic acceptance limits. Your insurance confirmation letter, AMP Super online account or app and annual statements will confirm the cover applied to your account.

1 Also known as Temporary Salary Continuance (TSC) or Temporary Disability Insurance (TDI).

If your employer pays for your insurance, default cover is automatically provided. If you do not want this insurance cover, you can opt out at any time by contacting us.
Insurance fees	The cost for cover is made up of your premium, the insurance service expense and any stamp duty that applies. Premiums and stamp duty depend on the amount, type of cover, age, gender, occupation, state of health and pastimes.	The cost for cover is made up of your premium, the insurance service expense and any stamp duty that applies. Premiums and stamp duty depend on the amount, type of cover, age, gender and occupation. Your employer may choose to pay some or all of this for you, your welcome letter will outline if this applies.
	The actual cost of your insurance will be confirmed in your welcome letter. You can also obtain a quotation by contacting us directly or through your AMP Super online account or app.

How to change or cancel cover

You can apply to increase, cancel or decrease your cover easily at any time.

To increase cover, you may be able to apply in your AMP Super online account or app or alternatively contact us to get the right form as additional details might be needed. If approved, some exclusions and/or higher insurance fees might apply.

If extra cover is declined, cover you already hold won't be affected.

You can cancel or decrease your cover in your AMP Super online account or app or by contacting us.

The effective date of the cancellation will be the date we receive your request and you won't be able to claim for something that happens after this time.

We recommend you speak with a financial adviser before deciding to change or cancel your cover.

The cost of your insurance cover is deducted from your account at the beginning of each month and will continue to do so unless you cancel your cover or it ceases for other reasons. This may erode your retirement income. We recommend you speak with a financial adviser to understand what level of insurance cover is appropriate for your needs.

9. How to open an account

You can open a personal AMP Super account online – it's quick and easy. Just go to amp.com.au/ampsuper. Alternatively, give us a call or speak with your financial adviser.

Make a complaint

We want you to have a great experience. So, if you're ever unhappy let us know using the contact details below or through your AMP Super online account or app. You can find out how we'll look after your complaint, and how to escalate it if needed, at amp.com.au/help-and-support/complaints/complaints-process.

Cooling-off period

If you joined AMP Super directly and haven't made any further account decisions yet, you can exercise your cooling-off rights by contacting us within 21 days from the date on your welcome letter. If you withdraw during the cooling-off period, you may get back less than you invested, as your balance will reflect unit prices at the time of withdrawal, any additional withdrawal, fees, insurance, and taxes. Also, any preserved benefits must be rolled into another super fund and can't be paid out in cash.

You should read the important information about how to open an account before making a decision. Go to the member guide which is available at amp.com.au/ampsuper.
